WELLS-GUIBERSON GETS GAS AND OIL SHOWING AT 1506

Richardson No. 1 Resumes Drilling Today After Long Delay With Fishing Job—Drilling Steady Over South Vernon Field

The discovery of an oil and gas sand at 1506 feet, estimated to be making 6,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily in Wells-Guiberson test on section 99 is the feature of the oil operations in Wilbarger county this week. The sand will be tested for a deep test for oil. There is considerable oil showing in the sand, which is three feet thick, and a deep test is expected to prove successful.

The Tea Pot Dome test on Section 100 has completed setting casing and is being drilled at about 925 feet this afternoon.

The rig for the S. A. Castlebury test of the Bowers farm in Section 100, was moved on the location this morning and the test will be spudded in about the last of the week.

The Richardson No. 1 is being cleaned out this morning with preparations being made to begin drilling this afternoon. The test is now 7240 feet deep and will be drilled to a depth requisite to a good test of the territory south of the South Vernon, Stephens No. 1, 2, and 3. Considerable trouble has been experienced in the last few weeks with a string of loss in the hole.

Twelve inch casing was set this morning in the Duncans and Ellis Stephens No. 1 at about 690 feet and drilling is expected to be resumed some time today or tomorrow.

The Holznerling test on the Zipper farm is shut down today.

The Kemp-Bridges on the Hill farm is shut down for lack of water storage today. The storage tanks that were set up on the location were filled yesterday with water and were found to be too leaky to use. New tanks are being secured and operations are expected to be resumed at an early date.

The Daniels, Murchison and Pigg Davis No. 1, one mile south of here, was shut down today with trouble with a broken crank.

The test on the L. M. Smith estate is drilling and the test on the A. P. Morris farm has not been spudded in yet. The test north of Harrold on the Dewey Morris farm is drilling.

With the drop in the price of crude, operations are keeping a much more steady pace in this county than was expected. The South Vernon Oil Company has not suspended operations but instead of selling the oil, two 1000-barrel storage tanks have been purchased and will be installed at the wells in the next ten days. C. L. Harris, of Fort Worth and C. M. Powell, of Wichita Falls were here this morning in the interest of the Black, Sivalls and Bryson tank company and it was through these men that the purchase was made.

July Opens With 1114 Attending Sunday Schools

Attendance at all Sunday schools opened for July with an increase of one over the closing Sunday in June. The attendance at all Sunday schools Sunday was 1114. The collection for the last Sunday in June was $49.28 while reports for the first Sunday in July show $32.25.

Only one time during June did the attendance fall below 1100 but the reports from previous months show that this is a rather small number in attendance at all the Sunday schools.

The First Baptist church has maintained the lead in attendance with the First Methodist church coming second.

The attendance at all Sunday schools Sunday is as follows: First Baptist church, 255 present with $16.30 collection; First Methodist church, 275 with $12.00 collection; Church of Christ, 202 present with $5.10 collection; Central Christian church, 126 present with $12.80 collection; Federated Presbyterian church, 121 present with $2.15 collection; St. Paul's Lutheran church, 35 present with $2.15 collection. Total number present at all Sunday schools, 1115 with $53.25 collection.

Cotton Exchange Moves.

The H. B. Beer cotton exchange which has formerly been located in the A. P. Beck building on North Main street, moved Saturday to 1710 Texas street next to the Vernon Hotel. The exchange was open for business yesterday morning.

Jim Democrat Stanchi McAdoo Boomer.

JIM DEMOCRAT

Jim Democrat, 80 years old, of Aulanta, Ga., who ran for the doctor the night William Gibbs McAdoo was born in Marietta, Ga., attended the Democratic National Convention as the guest of the Georgia delegation, stopping in a luxurious hotel suite. Jim never attended school, but reads and writes fluently, and has educated his children highly.

HEAVY RAINFALL FRIDAY AIDS CROPS

STEADY PRECIPITATION FOR MORE THAN 12 HOURS ESTIMATED AT INCH AND HALF

A steady drizzle with intermittent down pours drenched the county and the Panhandle country for about 14 hours Thursday night and Friday, doing much damage in some sections and giving great help to crops in others. One wheat harvest which is the third largest in the history of this section will not suffer serious delay.

Row crops in the county were in need of rain and the steady precipitation estimated to have been more than an inch, insures a good season.

The temperature for Friday varied only five degrees during a period of 17 hours. At 7 o'clock the mercury stood at 59 and at 12 noon it had risen to 64 but fell again Friday night to 60. The temperature for the past week has been low and reports from eastern states state that overcasts and rains are being worn.

Although there was no hail in this county, some sections of the plains country report much damage from hail late Thursday night.

Many celebrations planned for the Fourth were called off or postponed to be held later. Many people from Vernon had already gone on their picnic and fishing trips and suffered hardships of traveling in the rain and mud back home again. Company "L," local unit of the Guard had planned an extensive out-door drill program but had to confine their work to the army shed the steady rain would not permit drill on the street Friday.

With the sunshine of Saturday and Sunday work was started cultivating the row crops yesterday morning and the country is, generally, looking good.

Work on Farmers' Co-operative Gin Is Progressing

The foundation for the building and the seed house are completed and the frames for the cotton house are being built for the Farmers Co-operative gin in Northeast Vernon today. Two teams are at work on the grading of the gin lot in order to have it well drained and seven men are pushing the other work to completion. The roof was completed this morning on the office building and work on the gin building is expected to start some time this week.

Return From Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Frazier Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gross, and Guy Puckett have returned from an automobile trip to Denver, Boulder and Colorado Springs. Mrs. Puckett and children accompanied them and Mrs. Puckett remained over to study music in Denver. On their return they stopped off at Gunnison, Colo., where they enjoyed some excellent fishing.

LOCAL BANKS SHOW DEPOSITS OF OVER 2 MILLION DOLLARS

Best Showing at This Time of Year Since 1920 When Oil Money Flowed Into Vernon. Total of $2,868,231.65 June 30 Call

A total of $2,868,231.65 is in Wilbarger County banks subject to individual check, the statements show on the June 30 call. Of this amount $2,485,121.53 is in the four banks in Vernon. The remainder of the deposits is in banks at Odell, Oklahoma and Harrold. This is one of the most creditable showings ever exhibited by banks of this county at this time of year. At the time the call was made the small grain money was still finding its way into the coffers of banks and the movement is still on. Bankers and business men are excited over the volume of business transacted at this time of year and are looking forward to the fall season with a great deal of anticipation. The outlook promises the best year for farmers of the county has ever had.

The following is the deposit by banks: Wagoner National, $781,608.30; Herring National, $651,122.07; Farmers State, $519,272.80; First Guaranty State, $532,707.64; Farmers State Bank, Odell, $127,498.87; Bank of Odell, $120,439.37; First State Bank of Odell, $75,469.83; First Guaranty State Bank of Oklahoma, $60,141.10.

June call for the past five years reveals the following interesting figures:

1923	$2,353,455
1922	2,339,193
1921	1,391,881
1920	2,588,647
1919	1,815,813

Monday Morning Blaze Does Much Damage to Home

A house at the corner of Houston and Peace streets, owned by Mrs. H. D. Hacksmith, suffered considerable damage yesterday morning at eight o'clock by fire originating from an unknown cause.

The house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. D. N. (Dick) Bowers and son, and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Skipworth and family and neither of the two families were able to ascertain the cause of the fire. The Bowers, having been up late Sunday night, were still sleeping when Mr. Bowers heard cries from the outside. He rushed up to find that the kitchen to his apartment in flames and the room in which they were sleeping filled with smoke.

Considerable difficulty was experienced in putting out the fire, since it had spread to the attic. After about thirty minutes work the flames were extinguished and although there was no definite estimate made of the loss it is said. The loss was not covered by insurance.

LONG TIME CITIZEN OF COUNTY PASSES AWAY AT HIS HOME

M. Morris, Citizen of Wilbarger for Over Thirty Years Dies Thursday Night After Long Illness—Buried in East View Friday

M. Morris, 73, died Thursday night at 10:40 o'clock at his home in East Wilbarger street. He had been afflicted with illness for three weeks and the end was not unexpected. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at his residence. Rev. O. P. Cary, presiding officer of the Vernon Methodist district, assisted by Rev. Chas. J. Morris, assistant pastor of the First Methodist church and Rev. S. E. Lloyd conducted the funeral services. Interment took place in East View cemetery that afternoon.

Mr. Morris was born in Georgia and moved to Cass County, Texas, many years ago. He was married to Miss Martha Ellington, who with their four sons, J. B. D. E. A. P. and G. C. all residents of this county, survive him. A sister, Mrs. Lizzie Homan of Vernon also survives him.

The Morris family moved to Harrold over thirty years ago where Mr. Morris engaged in the lumber business. After disposing of his lumber business, the family moved to Vernon 21 years ago, where they have made their home since that time. He was an extensive land owner and after his moving to Vernon, looked after his large farms near Harrold until sickness prevented him taking an active management.

Mr. Morris' health began to decline seven years ago and he had been confined to his room for the last six months. He was a devoted member of the Methodist church and was a director in the Herring National Bank. The following were all members: U. S. Davis, Hubbard, Volney, E. H. Pigg, Bass King, J. D. Sumner, S. R. Crim, A. Asphew, and Morris and family, and Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Little of Harrold attended the funeral.

Five Boys Hurt Yesterday When Car Turns Over

Five boys sustained minor bruises yesterday morning about ten o'clock when an Overland car in which they were riding turned over on a hill three miles south of Vernon. Ted Key, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Key, was driving the car at a break pace when he started to take the turn coming down the hill. The left front casing gave way under the strain causing the rim to fly into the ground and turn the car over. The boys were thrown clear of the automobile when it turned over but Ted Key sustained a dislocated left shoulder and Bartlett Dyer lost his finger nail from the third finger of his left hand. The other occupants of the car, Roy Crawford, John Carr, and Lee Reynolds, sustained minor injuries.

The boys were brought to Vernon for first aid treatment and the demolished car was brought in shortly after noon.

Auto Polo To Be Played at Fair Park This Week

The Southwestern Auto Polo players have arranged for a three day meet at the fair grounds here beginning July 10. The games will be played in the evening starting at 8:30 and will furnish excitement for every class. There will be croquet, sunbaths and thrills a plenty for the spectator when the cars turn over, run over each other and plunge headlong into the game as though there was no danger in the adventure.

This is the first time that auto polo has been brought to Vernon and the novel entertainment is expected to draw large crowds.

The game is similar to polo played on ponies, but furnishes many more thrills since the cars are running at a break neck speed and must stay to avoid crashes that must occur during the game.

The company putting on the entertainment reports that the cars to be used here are all new and in first class condition.

Dr. Caylor in Lamesa.

Dr. H. C. Caylor will be in Lamesa this week, where he goes on business. He does not contemplate taking a vacation from his active duties soon, as has been reported.

Leave for California.

Mrs. R. D. L. Kilgough and daughter, Josephine, and Mrs. H. S. Merckel, formerly matron of the Dan Wagoner Hall at the Texas Women's College at Fort Worth, left Thursday for California to spend the summer. They are making the trip by automobile and expect to arrive there some time this week.

Methodist Sunday School To Have Picnic Friday

The members of the First Methodist church Sunday school, will hold a picnic at Allingham Park Friday afternoon from four until 8 o'clock Friday night. The ladies of the church will bring baskets for the spread and it is planned to have a barbecue beef. The Vernon Concert Band will furnish the music for the occasion.

Very Black and Miss Ollie Lyda of Elmer, Okla., were married Saturday afternoon at 4:45 by T. J. Griffiths, justice of the peace, at his office in the court house. They will make their home in Oklahoma.

Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock Pete Worley and Miss Della Wolf of the Fargo community were wed and again T. J. Griffiths performed the ceremony in his office. The young couple will live near Fargo.

R. P. Webb in Ill.

R. P. Webb is reported to be in a critical condition at a local hospital where he was taken Monday morning following a stroke of apoplexy at Okla. He remains unconscious. His condition remains unchanged this morning.

Held Sane by Day, but Insane at Night.

JAMES E. MACUSKER

One of the strangest cases on record is that of James E. Macusker, a Philadelphia publisher, who has been held by the courts there to be sane by day, but insane by night. So in the day time he directs his publications from his office, but is locked up at night in the Friends' Asylum at Philadelphia.

Company "L," 142nd Infantry Texas National Guard, left Friday afternoon at 4:45 for the annual summer encampment at Fort Crockett, Galveston, to spend fifteen days in summer training. The special troop train arrived here at 4:40 and no time was lost in loading the equipment of the local unit.

The unit was assembled Friday morning at the national guard armory on North Main street and given the requisite instructions for the camp. Practically every phase of camp work was covered and the men inspected in order that they might be in good shape for camp.

The unit was to be ready for the regular camp activities by Saturday afternoon if possible. The majority of the members were recruits but those who had seen other National Guard units leave Vernon, declared the present unit to be the best that had ever been sent to a camp from this city. A large crowd gathered at the station to witness the departure of the troops and the general good feeling exhibited by all gave the members of the unit a good send off for the camp.

BOWERS LOSES TEN ROUNDS SATURDAY

LOSES FIRST FIGHT SINCE RE-ENTERING RING TO BATTLE JENNINGS

Dick Bowers went down for the first time since his re-entering the ring before the powerful jabs of Battling Jennings of Wichita at the National Guard Armory in Amarillo. Jennings was the larger man, having more weight and a longer reach. He took the lead from the start and sent Bowers on defense throughout the ten round go that was decided the best fight ever held in Amarillo.

Bowers was the more classy of the two in ring work according to newspaper reports and showed the larger one list how to do some real foot work. Bowers was a good loser and fought through to the end. He kept Jennings working without giving away before his well timed jabs that were the hardest that he has met this year.

Mickey Savage, of Sapulpa, Okla., who refused to meet Bowers for a return match is to meet Jennings at Amarillo some time in the near future, having issued a challenge for the winner of the Bowers-Jennings bout.

The Marriage Market' And 'The Common Law' at Pictorium

"The Common Law," will be here Wednesday at the Pictorium for a return engagement. Robert W. Chamber's novel of modern society, dramatized. A famous screen play starring beautiful Corinne Griffith, Elliott Dexter, Conway Tearle, Doris May, Hobart Bosworth, Bryant Washburn and many other celebrities.

Thursday and Friday, the public is due another treat, "The Marriage Market." Headed by Jack Mulhall, but starring actor and Pauline Garon, a comparative newcomer to the screen who won her laurels in a recent deMille production, the all-star cast embraces such able actors and actresses as Alice Lake, Shannon Day, Jean Debraire, Mayne Kelso, Vera Lewis, Wilford Louis, Kate Lester and Marc Robbins.

"The Marriage Market," written by Evelyn Campbell, is a superb treatise on modern marriages. The author contends that marriage is a market in which the prettiest face and form and the most charming personality gets the highest price. The story centers around an attractive young girl who is sent to a fashionable "finishing school" to be prepared for marriage—but because of her impulsive nature is hurried into a series of engagements and barely escapes in time to prevent burning her fingers.

Pauline Garon as the irresponsible young daughter, is adorable. Miss Garon possesses a wardrobe which will delight the feminine portion of the audience, and is bound to bring gasps of admiration from the men. Alice Lake runs a close second when it comes to clothes and Shannon Day is not left far behind, either. It is the contention of these three charming actresses that clothes make the screen actress almost as much as real emotion, and they have clothed themselves for "The Marriage Market" in their most expensive and exclusive raiment possible.

Today and tomorrow, the last showing of "The Merry Go-Round Girl," starring Mary Philbin, in the last unique and compelling love story of the age.

To the Voters of Wilbarger County.

Because of the duties of the office of Tax Collector, which I am now filling, it will be impossible for me to see every voter in the county. I am taking this method of letting you know that I will very greatly appreciate your vote in the coming primary.

I have tried to make you a good officer during the sixteen months I have served by appointment and I believe you know that I have been faithful and efficient in the discharge of all my duties.

Many who have frequent occasion to consult the records of the Tax Collector's office have commended me for the clean manner in which I am keeping the records, and I invite any who may wish to do so to come in and make a careful inspection of my work at any time.

It is an old and well established democratic custom that where a person fills an unexpired term by appointment in a satisfactory manner, that they are entitled to election by the voters for one term.

As a citizen, a taxpayer and the head of a family, I have an equal right with either of my opponents to ask for election to the office of Tax Collector of Wilbarger County, and I assure you that I will continue in the faithful and efficient discharge of the duties of the office if I am elected.

I ask you to make a careful investigation as to my qualifications for filling the office and of my loyalty to the people and institutions of Wilbarger County.

Thanking you for every courtesy shown me and for a favorable consideration of my candidacy when you go to cast your ballot on July 22, I am, most sincerely,

MRS. C. M. BLAIR.

DOLLAR SOCIAL BIG SUCCESS AT CHURCH YESTERDAY

Members of the Missionary society of the Methodist church entertained with a special program and a "Dollar Social" yesterday afternoon at the church.

The rooms were decorated in keeping with the occasion and the receiving line was composed of heads of the circles of the church, and Mrs. R. E. Dickenson, Mrs. Chas. J. Marts and Mrs. O. P. Clark. The program consisted of readings and music and each circle leader and her members staged a stunt act.

The organ fund was increased by fifty silver dollars earned by the women at this time, who told in clever rhymes of the undertaking and its outcome. Punch was served throughout the afternoon and a large crowd of church workers enjoyed the occasion.

L. J. Massie of Los Angeles, Calif., arrived today. He will be here some time, on business connected with his chain of grocery stores.

ARTICLE ON DOANS BY HIGH SCHOOL GIRL WINS PRIZE

Miss Anita Frances Dickenson
Is Lucky Winner in Local History Contest at Texas
University—Three Papers
Sent from Vernon

The following splendid article submitted in a local history contest at Texas University was awarded a prize. The article was written by Miss Anita Frances Dickenson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Dickenson, a student in the local high school.

The paper was one of three sent from Austin from high school students. The article follows:
Doans, a typical, sleepy, struggling country town, was once the leading post of cowboys, in clanking saddles, and Indians, with teaching and war horses. At present it is only one of two stores, a school house, meeting house, and half a dozen farmers' homes. In its pleasant tranquility, it gives barely a suggestion of the wild, gay times it has witnessed in days gone by. For it was the last Indian battle on the famous Dodge City, Kansas, cattle trail, which trail began at San Antonio and ended at Dodge City, where the cowboys received their last orders from mothers and sweethearts before reaching Dodge City, where one hundred thousand, and one thousand two hundred thousand men passed through Doans annually. There is still a glamour of romance about it and always will be to those who love the West.

In 1879 a postoffice was established. Before that time, mail was brought from a hundred miles away. They have had a school since 1883. Children came distances of twelve miles on horseback or on foot, in lumbering wagons, today there are hundreds of people living in Wilbarger county. But when it was organized only one hundred were living here and most of them lived at Doans.

The Methodist camp meeting drew many people for religion, was the former council ground for Indians where they divided their camps and trinkets after a raid. The Indians could not be tamed while buffaloes were plentiful, because they could exist on them; for while they had sufficient food ranging the plains they would not go to a fort for supplies; therefore they could not come into contact with civilization, and thus continued in their wild state. The reason the Indian would not be compelled to go to the forts for supplies, was because buffalo meat constituted a definite part of the Indian's life. The Indians were so ignorant that when they received their supplies they threw all of their away except salt, soap, flour and coffee. Why did they not throw away, also? Because they used soap for tanning hides and as a means of pleasure they made holes in the flour sacks, galloped over the prairies and scattered the flour in the four winds. After visiting the fort, Indians could be trucked several miles or until trails of the white flour came out.

The calves were not used as we use them, but were torn in strips and tied to their horses tails for decorations. After the Indians were given lands by the government they loaned them to the whites for money which was freely spent in Doans and Vernon.

The last Indian raid in Wilbarger county was made April 16, 1870. On April 14, a band of Comanches had raided the settlement which is near where Quanah now stands. A day or so after the killing of Mr. Earle, Wilbarger county's first settler's family had a fight from this same band. Mr. Doan was returning from the pasture lands when something restrained him from giving an Indian a blow which he was about to give. He saw the woman told him that some Indians were down by the creek. Mr. Doan and family hurriedly gathered some supplies and bed clothing and fled to a grove about half a mile away. It was evening. Mr. Doan went back to his home. It was headstuck; the only startling thing was some smoke coming from the chimney. He cautiously crawled to the window and discovered the smoke to be coming from a log left in the fire place the night before. It was lucky that they did not run away, because some time later the Indians of that land happened to find Mr. Doan's place. If they had found his family, they would have been killed for they were on the war path.

A treaty between the Doan family and the Indians was consummated. At this time the Indians promised that no harm should ever come to a Doan or anyone living there, at their (the Indians) hands. The treaty was irrevocably kept. Indians are men of honor, requiring no slip of paper to make them keep their word.

The Texas, or at least the West Texas members of the Confederacy made a treaty with the Indians in 1865 between the Confederate States and the Indians, in which the Confederate states made promises to the Indians of what they would do for them. The reason that it was made in 1865, after the war had ended, may be explained by the fact that news traveled so slowly in those regions that the settlers probably did not know that the war was ended. The whereabouts of the Confederate copy of this treaty is not known, but the Indian treaty was brought to Doans where it remained in safety for nearly forty years, when it was destroyed in a fire at the Doans store in 1923. Only a scrap of the paper remains.

In the spring of '82 A. T. Boger, a settler, had a strange experience with an Indian. He was away and Mrs. Boger was doing the family washing. An Indian strode into the room where she was working, his bloody hands held a bloody butcher knife. Her first thought was that he had murdered her neighbors on Pease River and was going to murder her and the children. He asked for water and washed his hands. In broken English he commanded, "Come, follow me." With trembling knees and a quaking heart she followed him into the yard. On his horse was tied an antelope freshly killed. He cut off a hind quarter and gave it to her. Later they became great friends and she found out that he was Quanah Parker, the greatest chief of the Comanche tribe.

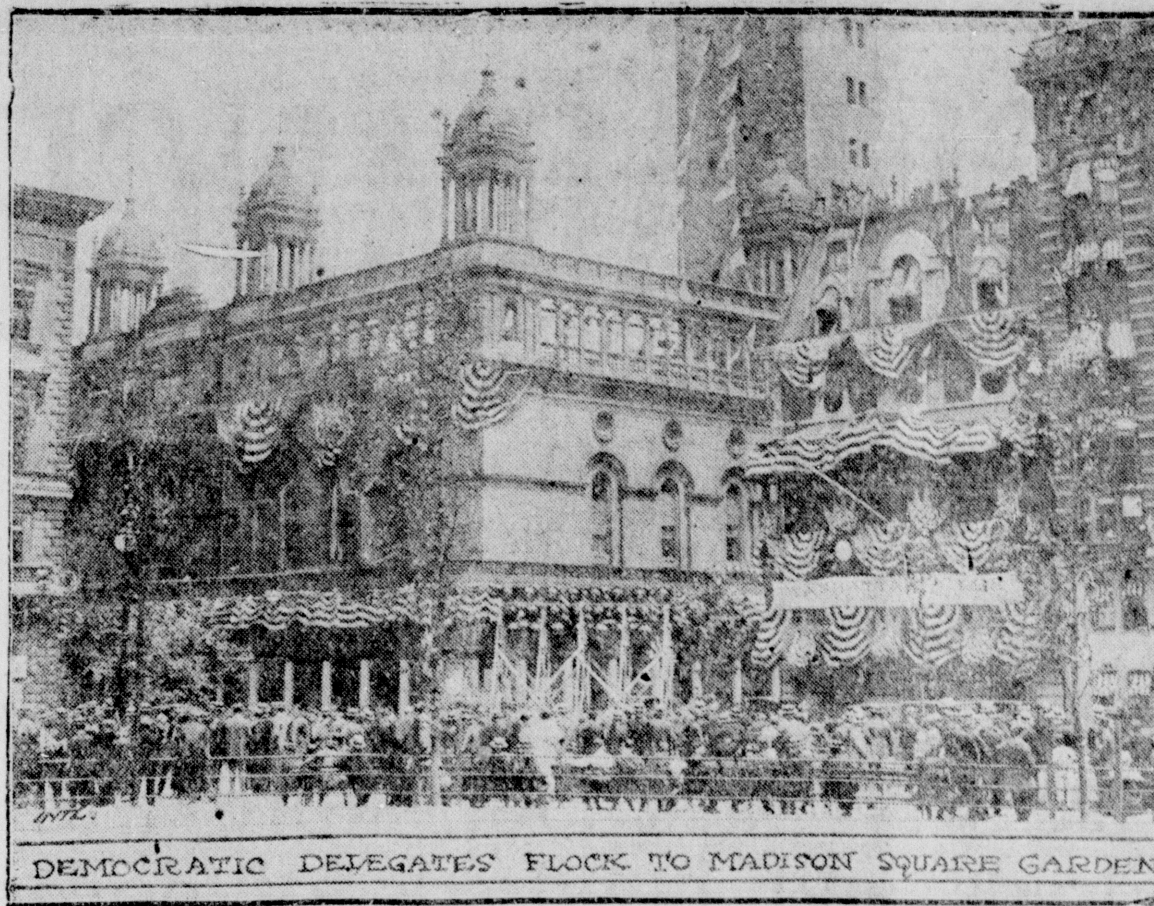

No man was ever killed in Doans in a desperate fight or by murder. This is probably due to the good influence of Mr. Doan; but they did have quite a bit of shooting. In the "cowboys' saloon," the floor was shot so full of lead that if the building had been moved from the spot, the settler said, some one might think they had discovered a lead mine.

When the cowboys got too "full," and noisy, they were lowered into a dry old well where they were kept until they became sober. This was Doan's jail and was very safe, for once in the well, a man could not get out until the guard hoisted him out. In the slang of the cowboys it was called the "enlabease." The border rangers and thieves left Doans alone for they respected Doans, and perhaps the "enlabease."

Doans has never had any calamities, cyclones, etc., except the usual spring dust storms. However, in June, 1891, the Red River which is very near Doans, converged with the North Fork about seven a half miles away. The flood was eight miles across. Land, chickens, cattle and all kinds of things were washed away; three hundred days out of three hundred sixty-five, the Red River is a bed of sand as far as eye can see its course, with very little water. But after the spring rains it is full of water and floods the lowlands and looks like a river of blood.

George Krammer, a desperado, was killed while shooting at Harold by a ranger. He was brought to Doans and buried in Mrs. Ross' back yard. About a month later, Rev. Mr. Milwre was brought from across the river to preach the funeral. For miles around, cowboys came to their friend's funeral. Rev. Mr. Milwre had a difficult task for there was not much good to be said about the man, and it would have been unfortunate for him to offend any of the desperado's friends. So he quoted scripture and preached a beautiful sermon on the life hereafter. When he finished, the cowboys were so appreciative that they passed a four gallon hat and completely filled it with silver dollars for the minister.

The Franklin Land-Cattle Company had many acres of land near Doans. Many English lords were interested in the company. Usually when the lords came to view their property they wore silk top hats and frock coats, and were awfully "high-brow" to the rough cowmen. One lord was convinced that he wasn't getting all the profit he should. He came over here, bought common duckings, and applied for a position as cowboy on his own ranch. He was employed only a very short time before he found out that the manager was shipping off cattle for himself this should have been sold for him. The lord made his identity known and promptly fired the manager. So much for British cleverness! He probably accomplished his purpose so successfully because he came as a cowboy, and the other lands had been so purely aristocratic. Who was this lord? It was Lord Arthur Belfour, English representative to President Harding's peace conference.

At one time there was a canning factory of Doans, which canned venison, quail and wild turkey. Wheat and corn have been grown there. Cattle raising was the main occupation at one time. It is purely an agricultural community, now, however, and farming and cotton raising holds sway.

In the old days any wild game you could think of was near—ducks, wildcats, coyotes, wolves, wild turkeys, catamounts, cougars, buffalo, deer and antelope. It was veritable hunter's paradise. The last buffalo in this section was seen April, 1878.

The people were always respectful and eager for religious services. A Sunday school to which a Quaker, a Jew and a Catholic all went was a success. They all studied Cook's literature together and there was never a hint of a religious squabble. These farmer folks were more reverent and desirous of religion than the people of today. They had "breaching" every once in a while. Rev. J. T. Hosmer was one of their beloved pioneer ministers. Whenever there was preaching the cowboys all came, started their guns and revolvers in a corner, and listened respectfully. If a herd was passing through, they left one of their number to watch the herd and the rest went to the service.

Doans annually has a picnic in "Watts' grove," not far from the village, to which hundreds now come. It was started in the eighties with only six present. It has grown to be one of the largest gatherings in West Texas. Politicians have been, and are, "primed" at this meeting. Candidates for Legislature, or Congress, as the case may be, try to make a favorable impression on the farmer folks who are, after all, the very core of the nation.

In 1879, the Doans people went to Medicine Mound in an adjacent county, to celebrate the Fourth of July. They had a three-day rodeo and general holiday. They bulldozed steers and danced. It was a "grand and glorious" Fourth. On the Fourth, they planted "Old Glory," which the women had made on one of the mounds. There it stood looking to the far horizon until whipped to tatters by the West Texas breezes.

The State of Texas

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Wilbarger County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to cause to be published (in a newspaper of general circulation, which has been published continuously and regularly for a period of not less than one year in your county) at least once a week for ten days previous to the return day hereof, copies of the following notice:

The State of Texas:

To all persons interested in the Estate of P. M. Morris, Deceased.

G. C. Morris has filed an application in the County Court of Wilbarger County on the 7th day of July, 1924, for Probate of the last Will and Testament of P. M. Morris, deceased, and for Letters Testamentary.

which said application will be heard by said Court on the 6th day of October, 1924, at the Court House of said County, in Vernon, Texas, at which time all persons who are interested in said estate are required to appear and answer said application, should they desire to do so.

Herein fail not, but have you before said Court, on the first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness my hand and official seal, at Vernon, Texas, this 7th day of July, 1924.

J. W. BROCK, JR.,

GRASSHOPPERS IN DORMANT STAGE

RAIN AND COOL WEATHER CAUSE PEST TO RETURN TO PASTURES

GRASSHOPPERS IN NO. 2

The grasshopper plague has abated somewhat since the cool weather and rains have caused the hoppers to return to the pastures where they have gone into a dormant stage. At this stage the insect sheds its shell and at the end of this period it is protected by a new skin and is much more destructive than ever, caused by their loss of fat while in a dormant stage.

This article comes from Federal research authority and is given in advance in order that farmers might renew the war on the pests in order to check their work before it is started in full swing.

County Agent P. D. Chaney reports that many applications are received every week for the formulae for the poison wash and that hundreds of out of town people call at his office for information concerning the most effective way to cope with the pests.

The hoppers have returned to the pastures since the recent rains and are not active during the cool weather. The fresh grass in the pastures seems to be more desirable to the insects for food and for this reason the crops have not been bothered to any great extent in the past few days.

Ample supply of the poison is in Vernon and the other ingredients are being sold at very low figures, and every farmer is urged to continue the war on the destructive pests.

DODGE BROTHERS EFFECT SUBSTANTIAL SAVING

It is quite evident from the comments of buyers, according to J. B. Hendrix, manager of the McFall Brothers, Dodge Brothers Dealers, that the public appreciates the significance of Dodge Brothers policy of making constant improvements in their motor cars instead of changing models every year.

Magazines, newspapers and bulletin boards everywhere are reminding the people this month that this policy continues to prevail and that they may buy Dodge Brothers cars without fear of seeing a new and entirely different model put on the market soon after they take possession of the present type car.

"Coming just at this time," said Mr. Hendrix, "when many manufacturers are preparing to issue new models, this advertisement is having a striking effect. It serves as a wholesome reassurance to prospective buyers. They dislike the idea of buying a car today and finding a month or so later that it is an obsolete model. And it is only natural that they should. The depreciation loss is out of proportion for a few months' use. Moreover, most people like to be up-to-date in their motor equipment and if they wish to follow their desire in this respect they must accept this sharp depreciation loss."

"Dodge Brothers Motor Car owners who buy new cars every year—and there are many of them—have a big advantage here. A one-year-old Dodge Brothers car is modern in appearance and mechanical design. The fact is conceded by everyone. Equally important to its resale value, however, is the fact that it is substantially the same car that Dodge Brothers will manufacture a year later. In other words, there is no danger that this one-year-old car will suffer an undue depreciation loss simply because an entirely different model is about to make its appearance. We charge off only for the normal rate of depreciation for one year. And the used car buyer in turn appreciates the fact that the price represents full value and that he can buy the car with full assurance of many years of satisfactory service."

"Another factor enters into this policy which is also of considerable importance to buyers. A change in models involves a complete change of dies and production schedules. It upsets a factory completely, and often means a virtual stoppage of production. This naturally means a loss to the manufacturer and his only recourse is to get it back in the price of his product. The saving effected by Dodge Brothers, through their policy of constant, gradual refinement instead of radical annual changes of models, is faithfully returned to the buyer in the form of surplus value. Every dollar saved, of course, enables the factory to give that much more for the money."

"The practice of bringing out new models every year is also responsible for a slow-up of sales during the summer months. People hold off, waiting to see what the new models are like. The fact that Dodge Brothers sales are continuing at the normal volume is another indication of the confidence engendered by the practice of not issuing annual models. Many buyers have said to us, 'Dodge Brothers cars could not be finer than they are today, either in appearance or riding comfort. I am not afraid of a change. There is certainly no occasion for it.'"

"Also although most owners do not realize it, the cost of replacement parts is greatly affected by bringing out yearly models. One

CENTRAL FIGURES IN DAY'S NEWS.

Count Boni de Castellane, divorced husband of Anna Gould, of New York, is reported to have declared in Paris the Vatican had annulled his marriage. At the same time Baroness de Forrest, sister of Henry Letellier, one of France's richest men, denied she was to marry Count Boni. The forger conviction of William H. Anderson, formerly superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York, has been upheld by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court. Mrs. Ernest Thompson, wife of the naturalist, has returned from a long tour of India with declaration that women there can divorce husbands at will if they prove to be boresome. Mrs. Juliette Low, founder of the Girl Scouts of America, has sailed from New York to attend the international camp of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides at Foxlease, Leithurst, Eng., July 14 to 24.

Reason for the extremely low price for Dodge Brothers parts is the fact that parts stay standard for years.

FARMERS ARE REQUIRED TO STAMP EGGS FOR SALE

Farmers who deliver good grade farm products can always dispose of them and when they personally guarantee them by putting their name and address on the produce they soon build a reputation and command a price which is often above the market. Furthermore they create a demand for their products, says M. B. Oates, agricultural agent for the Fort Worth and Denver.

The importance of the personal guarantee was emphasized last week at Decatur when the grocers and produce men of that place signed an agreement that they would not buy any more eggs this summer except infertile eggs which were stamped with the name and address of the producer. This agreement will become effective in about two weeks and will continue in effect until September 15th.

This method of personally guaranteeing eggs is also being practiced by a whole group of farmers at Menster, Texas, this year. They are shipping thirty cases of eggs per week, most of which come to Wichita Falls and putting their name and address on the eggs and also labeling the cases so that the buyer knows at once where they come from. In this way they are building a reputation and therefore do not dare put their name on bad eggs. So they are delivering only the very best. They have been receiving a premium on their eggs all summer.

Several farmers at Chillicothe sell eggs in cartons and put their name and address on the cartons. Some time ago they were getting do per dozen more than folks who do not advertise quality eggs by personally guaranteeing them.

Farmers at Bowie, Bellevue, Vernon, Memphis, Amarillo, Dalhart, Seymour, Munday, Stamford and Spur and many other towns are doing the same and getting the highest price. They also find a strong demand for their eggs.

In the commercial world we come to know the quality of a product by the brand name. This is true of canned goods, breakfast foods, box fruits, syrup, clothing, cooking utensils, implements, confections and what not.

The farmer can profit as these manufacturers have done if he will do what they do. That is deliver a product that can be depended upon each week and use a brand name or his own name and address. Your County Agent can tell you where to get an egg stamp for stamping eggs as above recommended.
